Tevron® Announces the Release of the CitraTest® Resource Distribution Manager to its Flagship Solution, CitraTest® APM.

CitraTest APM is the only monitoring solution that fully supports every enterprise application that is accessible from a Windows based machine.

Nashua, New Hampshire, January 5, 2006 – Tevron today announced the release of the CitraTest Resource Distribution Manager. The CitraTest Resource Distribution Manager is used in conjunction with CitraTest APM and allows for the secure and automated transfer of all CitraTest test resources via the web. With this latest solution from Tevron, Tevron again is taking the lead role in the APM industry in providing turnkey monitoring solutions with an open architecture that allows for the easy integration with third party solutions along with full support for every application that is accessible from Windows. “Through the use of CitraTest Resource Distribution Manager, Tevron’s enterprise customers will be able to deploy a cost effective, secure, web based file transfer system into their APM architecture further minimizing overall IT costs,” says Jay Labadini, Vice President of Business Development.
