The company deploys a wide range of retail software solutions and services to its customers.

Karin Valk, General Manager of Falk Solutions: "the dynamics in retail is large and the technological developments go fast. The Omnichannel retail platform is constantly maintained and developed by our team of developers and software engineers. We apply to existing code or we deliver new code on a daily basis. Our customers trust that the software works well in their business-critical process. With the test automation suite of TrendIC (Tevron's partner in the Netherlands) we can automate our testing in a very smart way. Because the test work is automated we can test more often, faster and more complete. Involving not only the new coding is tested, but also the continued proper operation of the rest of the software."
